

This 3-part plan is an effective framework for faith communities to include persons of varied abilities in worship, youth and adult education programs, and other events.

1. Perspective: Puzzle Pieces

Understanding that each person is a piece of the puzzle, a member of the Body of Christ, with both gifts (“greens”) and challenges (“pinks”).

2. Participation: Universal Design

A broad-spectrum of ideas meant to produce buildings, products, and environments that are inherently accessible to all people. Apply this concept when planning worship, fellowship, education and service opportunities.

3. Personalization: Responsive Design

When participation requires further support, implement Responsive Design to meet specific needs, equipping individuals to use their gifts.
